

Keith Glyde

I am a former Regular infantryman and Reserve gunner and currently have over 30 years experience in the road transport industry in Tasmania as both business operator and employee.

I am a passionate researcher of the dress and insignia, unit lineage, and organization of the Royal Regiment of Australian Artillery, and the insignia of the Australian Army as a whole, and am a published author on a number of aspects of those interests.

The following were located on an internet search by Jim Catchlove:

Publications by Keith Glyde

1. Distinguishing colour patches of the Australian Military Forces 1915-1951 : a reference guide / Keith Glyde
Glyde, Keith, 1959-
[Book : 1999]
2. Artillery in Tasmania, 1901-2011 : a chronological diary of the evolution of artillery in Tasmania from 1901 to 2011 / researched and compiled by Douglas Morris Wyatt and Keith Glyde
Wyatt, Douglas Morris, 1946-
[Book : 2012]
3. An electronic scrapbook of Artillery in Tasmania, 1901-2011 / researched and compiled by D.M. Wyatt and K. Glyde
Wyatt, Douglas Morris, 1946-